HOSPITAL PROGRESS

VOL. XIX SPECIAL DIRECTORY NUMBER 1938

The Catholic Hospital and School of Nursing at the End of 1937

Alphonse M. Schwitalla, S.J. and M. R. Kneifl

I. Foreword

FOR the ninth consecutive year the Catholic Hospital Association is submitting to the interested public a series of Directories of Hospitals, Schools of Nursing, and Allied Agencies conducted under Catholic auspices in the United States and Canada. There are also included Directories of Educational Institutions which have interested themselves particularly in various phases of Nursing Education and Directories of Religious Orders and Congregations conducting these various institutions. The Catholic Hospital Association regards this service as an interpretative effort to bring to interested persons an authentic and entirely reliable source of information concerning an important Catholic welfare and educational activity.

A year hence the Catholic Hospital Association expects to present a ten-years study of the development of the Catholic hospital and its related agencies. This summary might be regarded as having particular significance in view of the fact that it will encompass the period from 1929 to 1939, the period, therefore, in which all privately conducted welfare and educational agencies have been subjected to the severest strains from economic pressures. The changes which all of these institutions have been forced to undergo as a result of these pressures will, no doubt, form a most interesting study in the future and it is important, therefore, that a contemporary history of hospital and school-of-nursing activity, as well as of other agencies, be accurately recorded in such detail as may be thought most serviceable.

It is conceded that in the field in which we are here interested most significant changes are being brought about by changing social conditions. The trends of today are thought by many to contain the realities of the future. Social planning, therefore, needs the accumulation and interpretation of contemporary data as its most important factual foundation.

The summaries and discussions which in the past have been presented with our Directories have this year been kept within minimal limits so that the anticipated conclusions from the ten-years study may next year stand out with greater boldness.

With reference to the schools of nursing particularly, the Evaluation Program on which the Catholic Hospital Association is now entered will no doubt assist in the accumulation of much information. It was, therefore, thought undesirable to enter, in the present directory, upon an extensive discussion of the content of the tables. The factual information elicited through questionnaires and correspondence has, however, all been included in the directories themselves but no interpretation has been attempted for the present.

The Catholic hospital and the Catholic school of nursing are welfare and educational institutions. They are, however, more than this since they must both regard themselves as being agencies in which the Catholic Church carries on an important phase of its ministry through the agency of both the corporal and the spiritual works of mercy. No directory, therefore, can hope to express the inward spirit of these institutions nor can it in any way even suggest the objectives for which they are striving. The Catholic Hospital Association hopes, nevertheless, that through the publication of these directories a better understanding of the magnitude and quality of the work upon which it is engaged may be effected in the minds of all those, Catholic as well as non-Catholic, who have witnessed the development of so many of the significant institutions in the hospital and school-of-nursing field.

It is hoped that the spiritual values which lie behind the physical buildings and the curricula of the schools and the Sisters and lay personnel in all of these institutions may elicit a deeper interest through the presentation of the present data. It is with this hope that the Executive Board of the Catholic Hospital Association again issues this annual study of the Catholic hospital and school of nursing in both the United States and Canada.

1. The Magnitude of Catholic Hospital Service in the United States

IN accordance with the treatment of our subject adopted in previous Hospital Directories, the magnitude of Catholic hospital service in the United States has been indicated by four measures: (a) the number of hospitals; (b) the number of beds; (c) the number of patients; and (d) the number of patient days of service.

a) The Number of Hospitals

During the last year, ten additional hospitals have been added to the list, so that at the present time we accept as Catholic hospitals 685 institutions in the United States. This total represents 11.2 per cent of all the hospitals, sanatoria, and allied institutions listed by the American Medical Association in the Hospital Number of the Journal of the American Medical Association, March 26, 1938, but it represents 12.8 per cent of the 4,923 hospitals (exclusive of related institutions). It represents 19.5 per cent of all non-governmental hospitals and 70.2 per cent of all hospitals conducted under Church auspices. The totals upon which these percentages are based are not "cleared" to eliminate "related institutions." It is believed, however, that the percentages are accurate within less than one per cent.

b) The Number of Hospital Beds

During the year 1937 the number of hospitals beds in the Catholic institutions has increased by approximately 1,500, the total number at the end of the year 1937 being 87,343. The total number of beds in all hospitals, exclusive of those in related institutions, according to the statistics of the American Medical Association, numbered 947,228. The beds in the Catholic institutions, therefore, represent 9.2 per cent of all of these beds. The number of beds in the Catholic institutions represents 26 per cent of the beds in non-government institutions; 31.5 per cent of the beds in institutions organized not-for-profit, and 75.7 per cent of the beds in institutions conducted under Church auspices.

These percentages receive further significance from the fact that during the year 1937 the number of beds in government hospitals had increased by 3.3 per cent; in non-government hospitals by 0.8 per cent and in Catholic hospitals by 1.7 per cent. In other words during the last year the number of beds in government hospitals has been four times greater than the increase in beds in non-government institutions and has been twice as great as the increase in the number of beds in the Catholic institutions.

The number of bassinets has remained unchanged; 11,893 were reported by 589 institutions giving an average of 20.2 bassinets per hospital.

c) The Number of Patients

In 1937 the number of patients in the Catholic hospitals is estimated to have been 1,763,830. This figure is based on census reports of 476 institutions. In arriving at this estimate the same procedures have been followed as had been found in previous years to have yielded consistent results. The total number of patients in all hospitals of the country during the year 1937 was 9,221,517. Our Catholic institutions, therefore, admitted 19.2 per cent of all of these patients. The number of patients in Catholic hospitals constitute 32.3 per cent of the patients in all non-government hospitals; 70.7 per cent of the patients in all hospitals conducted under Church auspices.

The significance of these figures is enhanced when it is borne in mind that in the government hospitals the number of patients increased last year by 2.3 per cent, in the non-government hospitals by 8.3 per cent.

d) The Number of Patient Days of Service

The total number of patient days of service in the Catholic institutions amounted, in 1937, to 22,465,750 hospital days. This represents 6.4 per cent of the patient days spent in all hospitals. The average stay of the patient in the Catholic hospital during the year 1937 was 12.7 days, a lengthening of the period of hospitalization by one half day per patient. This fact conforms in general to the trends noticeable in the hospitals as a group. For many reasons the average stay of the patient in the hospital is increasing. This represents 6.4 per cent of the patient days spent in all hospitals; 27.3 per cent of the days spent in all non-government hospitals and 77.8 per cent of the days spent by patients in the Church-controlled hospitals.

2. Hospital Approvals

The number of Catholic hospitals now approved by the American College of Surgeons numbers 429 fully approved and forty-two conditionally approved. Two hundred and one of the Catholic institutions have merited the Approval of the American Medical Association for their internships and in thirty-one of our hospitals we find sixty-nine approved residencies. Fifty-three of the Catholic hospitals are recognized by the American Medical Association as teaching hospitals. In all of these totals no significant changes have taken place during the year 1937.

It must again be pointed out that in the Catholic institutions the approval of residencies has not kept pace with this approval in other institutions. The implications of this fact are numerous and perhaps significant. Special attention must be devoted to a study of this situation.

3. Occupancy

The number of patients in the Catholic hospitals each day is 61,550. This yields a daily average census for all our institutions of 89.8 patients per institution, an increase of 5.7 patients per institution over the conditions reported last year. The hospital occupancy calculated on this basis for the last year was 70.4 per cent, an increase of 11.3 per cent with conditions reported for 1936. The Church hospitals during the year 1937 were 68.6 per cent occupied and this percentage represented a gain in percentage of occupancy of 3.3. The gain in the percentage of occupancy in the Catholic institutions is, therefore, more pronounced than for the Church hospitals as a group.

4. Personnel

a) Changes in Superintendents

With reference to the personnel of the hospital, special points of interest may be called to the attention of the reader. During the past year 128 hospitals, or almost one fifth changed their Sister Superintendent, this number being larger by a small percentage than the number in previous years.

b) Education of Hospital Personnel

Of the Sister members of the staffs of our hospitals, 907, reported by 221 institutions, or approximately seven per cent are enrolled in colleges and universities, presumably while carrying on their hospital as well as their school duties on a part-time basis. Of the total number thus enrolled, 633 are students in Catholic colleges or universities. Of the 907 Sisters, 401 Sisters are taking advanced studies in a branch of Nursing; 113 in Laboratory Technology; 99 in Radiological Technology; 110 Hospital Administration; 59 in Dietetics; 28 in Physical-Therapy Technology; 48 in Anesthesia; 279 in Nursing Education. It is obvious from these figures that a large percentage of the 907 Sisters are taking courses in more than one subject.

c) Internships

Considerable interest attaches to the question of the effect of approval of the hospital for interns upon the selection of a particular institution by the intern. It is noteworthy that only one of the hospitals which have been approved for internships failed during 1937 to attract interns. On the other hand, thirty-six institutions which are not approved for interns have appointed a total of seventy-four first-year interns. Ten hospitals not approved for internships have attracted a total of sixteen second-year interns.

The number of interns in our Catholic institutions totals 1,362.

d) Medical Staff

The number of physicians on the active medical staffs of our institutions was reported by 399 hospitals to be 14,469, an average of 36.2 physicians per institution. Of this number of hospitals 315 report in addition 9,923 physicians as functioning on the Courtesy Staff, an average of 31.5 per institution. Three hundred and ninety-five institutions report a total of 7,113 Catholic physicians who labor in them, an average of eighteen per institution. The total number of physicians sending patients to our institutions reported by 449 institutions is 26,685, an average of 59.4 per hospital.

e) Nursing Service

Six thousand three hundred and ninety-nine Sister nurses are engaged in active nursing duties in 441 Catholic hospitals, an average of 14.5 per hospital. Co-operating with this number of Sisters there are in 399 institutions 6,572 graduate lay nurses, an average of 16.4 per hospital. Apparently at the present time there are actually more lay nurses engaged in nursing duties in our institutions than there are Sister nurses.

The employment of lay nurses by the Catholic hospitals differs somewhat in different sections of the country but the differences are not as pronounced as one might at first suppose. The smallest number of lay nurses on institutional duty is found in the Catholic hospitals of the Central Northwest where the number is ten per hospital. Next in order, the Catholic institutions of the South and South Atlantic States employ 13.2 nurses on an average per institution; the Central Western States 17.8 persons per institution; the Far Western 19.2 nurses and the North and Middle Atlantic States 20.9 persons per institution. From a regional viewpoint, the ratio of total nurses, including Sister and lay nurses, seems to bear no strict ratio to the average number of patients per day. In other words, the institutional nurse-to-patient ratio differs somewhat in the different regions and yet seems to be remarkably constant, all the variations lying between 2.4 and 3.1 patients per nurse.

An inquiry was made this year in compiling our statistics concerning the progress of the eight-hour day for nurses. Of 476 institutions, 254 have introduced the eight hour day for their private-duty nurses and 292 for their nurses on institutional service; while 222 institutions have not introduced this plan for their private-duty nurses and 184 have not introduced it on their institutional service. Again we find regional differences. In the North and Middle Atlantic States the eight-hour plan for private duty has been introduced into only forty per cent of the institutions whereas in the Far Western states the plan is in operation in sixty-seven per cent of the institutions. The eight-hour service for nurses on institutional duty has been introduced into only thirty-five per cent of the North and Middle Atlantic States and into 73.9 per cent of the Far Western states.

Among 383 institutions, 156 report a shortage of nurses and 227 indicate by their answers that they have not felt such a shortage. The regional situations show considerable variation. In the North and Middle Atlantic states only 23.2 per cent of the hospitals have felt a shortage of nurses but in the Far Western States 59 per cent report such a shortage. A large number of the hospitals have attempted to give a reason for the shortage of nurses. The most commonly assigned reason is the fact that graduate nurses do not look favorably upon general duty in a hospital. Seasonable variation is also assigned by a large percentage of institutions, some feeling the shortage in the summer and others in the winter. Locality, the higher educational requirements which demands the presence of nurses in colleges, and the effect of the eight-hour plan are assigned as reasons in approximately the same number of instances. Other reasons which were given occasionally are the fact that nurses take over positions other than nursing, marriage, the economic situation which forces nurses to do other types of work, difficulty of obtaining properly qualified nurses, etc.

Some light is thrown upon the question of the chief services for which lay nurses are employed by preference in Catholic hospitals. In 90.8 per cent of our institutions a Sister graduate nurse is in charge of medical nursing, a lay graduate nurse in 8.8 per cent of the institutions. In 92.1 per cent a Sister graduate nurse is in charge of surgical nursing and in 7.9 per cent a lay nurse is responsible. The Obstetrical division is in charge of a Sister graduate nurse in 71.4 per cent and a lay graduate nurse in 28.6 per cent of our institutions. A similar numerical relationship holds for our Pediatric divisions in which in 73.4 per cent a Sister and in 26.5 per cent a lay graduate nurse is in charge of the nursing service.

f) Departmental Supervisory Personnel

With reference to the Sisters and lay personnel in charge of hospital departments, the Directory study made this year offers unusually complete data. Sixty per cent of all the Catholic hospitals report the appointment of a dietitian in charge. Of this number, in one half of the institutions the dietitian is a Sister, in the other half it is a lay person. Seventy-one per cent of the institutions report a technician in charge of the Laboratory, thirty-eight per cent being lay persons and sixty-two per cent being Sisters. Seventy-one per cent of the institutions also report a Radiological Technologist, 22 per cent of these officials being lay persons and 78 per cent being Sisters. Only 40 per cent of the institutions report a Physical Therapy technologist, 32 per cent being lay persons and 68 per cent being Sisters. A Pharmacist in charge is reported by only 46 per cent of the institutions. In these 20 per cent of the departments are in charge of lay persons and 80 per cent in charge of Sisters. Forty-six per cent of the hospitals report nurse anesthetists of whom 42 per cent are lay graduate nurses and 58 per cent Sister graduate nurses. An especially appointed person is in charge of the Operating Room in 74 per cent of the institutions, 21 per cent of the total number being lay persons and 79 per cent being Sisters.

The extent of specialization with reference to these various positions is well indicated by the following: of 2,440 departmental officials, as many as 2,157 or 87 per cent are performing duties in only one department. Only eight per cent are performing duties in two departments and only two per cent in three departments.

5. The Reconditioning of Hospitals

In view of the present interest in hospital costs and related problems, a number of statements concerning the reconditioning of our hospitals and the cost of such reconditioning will prove particularly interesting. Similarly, summarizing statements with reference to the opinion of hospital administrators on business conditions in their respective sections of the country may not be entirely without significance.

a) Improvement and Equipment

Approximately 200 of our institutions supplied data on the improvements which they have undertaken in the re-equipping of their institutions. Of these 200 institutions, approximately 60 per cent report that re-equipping is in progress. Improvements in X-ray equipment lead the list by far since as many as one third of the institutions reporting improvements state that these are taking place in their radiological facilities. Approximately ten institutions report improvements and additional equipment in each of the following hospital departments: the Obstetrical department, the Operating-room (tables, lighting fixtures and furniture), Anesthesia, Patient-room furniture, Laboratory equipment, refrigeration equipment, electrocardiograph, and heating equipment. Approximately five institutions report improvements in the following classifications: Surgical, Physical Therapy, Oxygen Therapy, Sterilizers, Pharmacy furniture, Laundry and kitchen equipment. Some interest seems to attach to the installation of resuscitators and respirators, incubators, improvements in the library, the office, etc. Forty-one institutions report a total cost of their improvements amounting to $252,000.00 an average of approximately $6,000.00 per institution.

b) Construction

One hundred and seven building projects ranging from the construction of new buildings to the reconditioning of old ones are reported. This total cannot be recorded as representing a fair sampling of the field, nevertheless it is interesting that among these one hundred and seven projects, fifty are estimated as costing a total of $1,910,810.00 or an average of $38,-216.00 per project. On the assumption that this represents a fair average of the construction projects now in progress, the 107 undertakings would cost $3,536,-936. Seventeen nurses' homes are known to be in the process of construction or re-construction; twelve power houses; twenty-two remodeling projects; nine new buildings; six additions; eight elevator installations; six fire-escape installations, etc., are definitely known to be in progress. If our present information is regarded as representing an approximately correct basis for a judgment, the estimate can be justified that during the year 1937 approximately $12,000,000 have been spent on improvements in our group of institutions for construction purposes.

c) Business Conditions

Three hundred and sixteen institutions expressed their judgment concerning business conditions in their respective localities. Forty-one per cent of this number reported conditions as "fair, good or very good;" 31.5 per cent as "improving, slightly improved, or much improved" and 16.6 per cent as "very poor, poor, dull or very dull." Regional differences are pronounced in these answers. Interestingly enough, the South and South Atlantic States led in the number of optimistic reports, the Far Western States being second, the Central Western States third, the Central Northwestern states fourth, and the North and Middle Atlantic States being lowest in the percentage of favorable reports.

6. Group Hospitalization

The progress of group hospitalization plans is, in the present year, a matter of great interest. For reasons that are well apparent to all who have followed the discussions of this matter, the participation of the Catholic hospitals in this movement has been somewhat delayed. Nevertheless, there is evidence of a considerable awakening of interest among our Catholic institutions. For the first time we have made inquiries on this point. There is found that in forty-one communities in which there are Catholic hospitals, a total of 525 institutions of all kinds are participating in the plan; ninety-two of the institutions being Catholic hospitals. The average number of hospitals participating in each of the forty-one community plans is 12.8 In twenty-two of these projects there is a total of almost a million subscribers. This total is distorted, however, by reason of the fact that in New York City the group hospitalization plan affects more than 600,-000 members. Omitting New York City by reason of its disproportionate size as compared with the other projects twenty-one group hospitalization plans affect approximately 360,000 subscribers so that the average size of the plans in which our Catholic hospitals are participating is about 17,500.

1. The Magnitude of Hospital Service in Canada

a) The Number of Hospitals

AS pointed out in previous directories, the number of Catholic hospitals in Canada has remained practically constant for a number of years. It is also pointed out that in all likelihood the development of the Catholic institutions will henceforth take place either in the direction of enlargement or in the direction of intensification of service. Nevertheless, four new hospitals were added to our list during the last year, the number now being 169.

b) The Number of Beds

The number of beds has increased by almost three hundred and at present there are 28,494 beds yielding an average of 168.6 beds per institution.

c) The Number of Patients

The number of patients in the Catholic institutions is estimated to have been, during 1937, 22,272 per day. Extending the calculations on the basis of data available, it may be estimated further that during the last year, 482,384 patients were admitted to the Catholic hospitals of Canada. There is good reason to believe that the percentage of occupancy has shown a marked increase so that it is thought fair to report an increase of occupancy from 58.9 in 1936 to 75.7 in 1937, a most gratifying increase of approximately 15 per cent.

d) The Number of Patient Days

On the basis of reports from 98 institutions, the number of patient days is estimated to have been 8,269,280 as compared with 7,873,314 in the year previous, an increase of 5 per cent. The average stay of the patients of the Catholic hospitals in Canada was 17.1 days including all types of hospitals.

2. Hospital Approvals

Four institutions have been added to the list of fully approved institutions by the American College of Surgeons. Of these, three were taken from the list of conditionally approved institutions and were placed in the higher classification. At the present time 45.6 per cent of all of the Catholic hospitals have merited the approval of the College.

Three additional institutions were added to the number of hospitals approved for internships. No changes have taken place in the number of institutions classified as "teaching hospitals."

3. Personnel

a) Changes in Superintendent

Last year was a year of extensive changes for our Catholic institutions in Canada, almost one third of the superintendents having been assigned to new duties. Fifty-eight of the 160 institutions were given a new superintendent during the last year.

b) Internships

Eleven hospitals which are approved for internship report seventy-one interns but sixteen hospitals not approved for interns report twenty-three first-year and ten second-year interns. It is estimated that there are 187 first-year interns and 45 second-year interns serving in the Catholic hospitals of Canada. Eighteen institutions have residents but, as far as can be ascertained none of these have thus far sought the approval of the American Medical Association for the residency.

c) Medical Staff

The average number of physicians per hospital according to our reports seems to have decreased somewhat during the last year. It is now 31.1 physicians per institution. Of this number, however, only 18.1 physicians per institution are listed as being members of the active staff; 16.6 per institution being members of the courtesy staff. In eighty-four institutions there is a total of 1,520 members of the active staff. Of this number, 1,312 physicians, or an average of 15.6 per institution are Catholic physicians.

d) Nursing Service

Ninety-nine of the 169 Catholic hospitals of Canada report a total of 1,788 Sisters as members of their nursing staff. In eighty-eight of these ninety-nine institutions there are also 1,307 lay graduate nurses serving the institutions, an average of 14.8 graduate nurses per hospital.

The eight-hour-duty plan has not been as extensively introduced into Canada as into the United States. Of the 96 institutions supplying details on their Nursing Personnel, thirty-one or approximately one third report that the eight-hour-duty period has been introduced for their private-duty nurses and 28 report that it has been introduced for their institutional nurses. Apparently also a considerable discrepancy exists between Canada and the United States with reference to a shortage of nurses. Of 63 institutions supplying data, only 12 or not more than 20 per cent report a shortage.

In the various nursing services, the percentage of Sisters differs to a noteworthy extent. In medical nursing service 95 per cent of the persons in charge are Sisters and 5 per cent are lay graduate nurses. In surgical nursing 95 per cent are Sisters and 5 per cent lay nurses. In 70 per cent of the Obstetrical Division the nursing service is in charge of the Sisters and in 30 per cent in charge of lay nurses, and in the Pediatric Division the Sisters have charge of 83 per cent of the service and the lay nurses of 17 per cent.

e) Departmental Supervisory Personnel

Sixty hospitals report that they have dietetic departments. In 30 per cent of these the department is in charge of a lay person, in 70 per cent of a Sister. Seventy-eight hospitals report a particular person in charge of the Laboratory, ten per cent being lay persons and 90 per cent being Sisters. In eighty-one institutions there is an X-ray Division, 6 per cent of them being in charge of lay technicians and 93 per cent of Sister technicians. In fifty-three hospitals there is a department of physical therapy, 11 per cent of the technologists in charge being lay persons and 89 per cent Sisters. Of the 68 hospitals which reported a Pharmacy this service is in charge of lay persons in 12 per cent and of Sisters in 88 per cent of the institutions. Only 31 of the hospitals have nurse anesthetists, 6 per cent being lay persons and 94 per cent Sisters. Eighty-eight hospitals report their Operating Room as being conducted as a separate department, in 10 per cent of these institutions a lay person is in charge, and 90 per cent a Sister is in charge.

With reference to the extent of specialization in these various hospital departments, of the 400 positions upon which detailed information is given 325 are in charge of a person devoted exclusively to her particular kind of work. Fifty-four persons occupy two positions, 14 persons three positions, and five persons have four positions.

CHAPTER III. GENERAL STATISTICS OF CATHOLIC ALLIED AGENCIES OF THE UNITED STATES AND CANADA

OUTLINE

1. Magnitude of Service
2. Number of Beds
3. Character of Service
4. Staff and Service

1. Magnitude of Service

FOR purposes of progressive analysis, allied institutions have been classified in the statistics maintained by the Catholic Hospital Association as (a) Medical Agencies; (b) Institutional Services and (c) Visiting Nurse Services.

In our list of Allied Agencies for the United States, of the total number of 230 — 114 are classified as hospitals and other medical agencies, 73 as institutional services and 42 as visiting nurse organizations. Correspondingly for Canada, of 98 agencies, 76 are grouped under the head of hospitals and other medical agencies; 19 as institutional services, and 3 as visiting nurse services.

2. Number of Beds

The 114 medical agencies listed for the United States contain 5,958 beds. The 76 agencies of Canada contain 6,844 beds. These beds are not included in the totals given in the previous section of this summary for Catholic hospitals. In addition, it should be borne in mind that the 73 institutional services in the United States, that is, infirmaries and similar divisions for the care of the sick in convents and special schools, contain 5,729 beds, the average capacity of these agencies being 116.9 beds. In Canada 14 contain 3,099 beds or an average of 221.3 per institution.

3. Character of Service

Contained in the classification of hospitals and other medical agencies in the United States there are 14 hospitals for the chronic, 26 convalescent hospitals, 8 institutions for incurables, 6 maternity hospitals, 9 neuro-psychiatric clinics, 9 Tuberculosis sanitaria, 6 Orthopedic hospitals, 36 institutions for other diverse medical purposes.

In Canada there are 21 general hospitals too small to be included in the list of hospitals. Fifteen institutions are devoted to the care of chronic patients; 10 are hospitals for incurables; 7 are convalescent institutions; 3 are maternity hospitals, and 4 are tuberculosis sanitaria. The remainder, 16, are devoted to various specific purposes.

Included in this list also, in the United States, are 23 special clinics and dispensaries. It is estimated that these 114 agencies served approximately 185,000 patients during the last year, with an average of 2,023 patients per agency. Thirty-four of these agencies supplied detailed information for Canada. These thirty-four agencies served 56,000 patients during the last year. Among this group there are 54 special hospitals with an average bed capacity of 116. It is estimated that all the agencies combined serve no fewer than approximately 124,000 persons during 1937, the average per agency being 1,653 patients. In our statistics we are considering 73 allied agencies as institutional services in the United States and 19 in Canada. Each of these has an average bed capacity of 117 in the United States and 221 in Canada.

4. Staff and Service

A total of 505 Sisters in the United States and 132 Sisters in Canada are serving the patients of these agencies. In the United States, 17,812 patients and in Canada, 3,724 patients were assisted by these institutional services. Forty-two agencies in the United States and 3 in Canada are listed as performing the functions of visiting nurses under Catholic auspices. Thirty-one of these groups report a total of 433 Sisters engaged in this work, giving an average of 14 Sisters per agency, the corresponding number for Canada being 9 Sisters per agency. Probably a total of 588 Sisters assisted an estimated total of 28,266 patients in the United States through their visiting-nurse activities.

CHAPTER IV. RELIGIOUS ORDERS, CONGREGATIONS, AND OTHER ORGANIZATIONS ENGAGED IN HOSPITAL AND NURSING ACTIVITY IN UNITED STATES AND CANADA

IT will be recalled that the Catholic Hospital Association Directory of 1937 contained, for the first time, a detailed directory of Religious Orders, Congregations, and other organizations which own or control hospitals in the United States and Canada. This Directory was subjected to additional study during the last year, the services of the Religious groups were enlisted in making the necessary changes to bring the list up-to-date and studies, sometimes extensive ones, were undertaken to secure historical and statistical accuracy. It is believed that the present Directory of Religious Orders embodies all of the changes which have been suggested by the Superiors of these various Religious groups.

It will be noted that two tables are presented, one dealing with the Religious groups interested in hospital activity in the United States, the other interested in the same activities in Canada. As far as is known, the most recent jurisdictional changes implied in the formation of new provinces, the amalgamation of previously existing provinces and of changes in provincial limits have all been included. Footnotes have been extensively used where the entry in the Directory itself could not convey accurate information.

It should again be noted that such terms as Orders, Congregations, Diocesan Organizations, etc., are used in this Directory not in a strictly canonical sense, but rather in a semi-popular sense, since it is believed that in this way the Directory is more serviceable to those who expect to consult it.

The kind indulgence of those using this section of the Directory is again respectfully asked and the officials of the Catholic Hospital Association will be grateful for the notification of any errors which may be detected.

NURSING EDUCATION IN THE PRESENT DIRECTORY

In view of the extensive study which is now in progress of the Catholic schools of nursing in the United States and of the educational opportunities, under Catholic auspices, open to graduate nurses, it was thought advisable to omit a summary of the Catholic School of Nursing Directory for the present year.

The following Tables concerning the Summary of which reference is made above are included in Part III of the present directory:

Table IV. Tabular Summary — Schools of Nursing — United States and Canada

Table Va. Directory of Catholic Schools of Nursing of the United States and Possessions

Table Vb. Directory of Catholic Schools of Nursing of Canada

Table IX.	List of Catholic Educational Agencies in the United States and Canada Offering Curriculums of Special Interest to Sisters Engaged in Hospital and Nursing Education Activities
Table X.	Religious Orders and Organizations Engaged in Hospital and Nursing Activity

As far as possible, the arrangement and coding in all of these directories is kept uniform, so that the use of these directories will be facilitated.

2. The Hospital Directory Code

Due to the necessity of conserving space and to further necessity of making significant data easily available to the reader, compilers of directories find themselves forced to abbreviate the information which they supply to the student and the reader. The establishment of a code has been found the most usable technique, first of all, in condensing a large amount of information into a small place and secondly in making the meaning of a directory easily clear. Moreover, the rearrangement of the directory has necessitated a number of changes in the arrangement of the symbols. Persons consulting this directory are, therefore, urged to give a few moments' notice to the symbols, so that the directory may be found more serviceable. The reader, however, may be assured that every effort has been made by the editors to anticipate the purposes of those who consult these pages.

The code used in this directory is the following:

(Placed after the street address)

- a A.C.S. Fully Approved
- a[1] A.C.S.Provisionally Approved
- b A.M.A. Internship Approval*
- c A.M.A. Approved for Residency in a Specialty

3. Abbreviations of Types of Hospital Service

The American Medical Association has adopted a system of abbreviations which is being used in its directory to indicate the character of the medical care furnished by each institution. These abbreviations are the following:

Conv.	Convalescent	Isol.	Isolation
Ch.	Chronic	Mat.	Maternity
Cr. Child	Crippled Children	Men. Def.	Mentally Deficient
Dr. & Al.	Drug & Alcoholic	N. & M.	Nervous & Mental
Fe. Mi.	Feeble-Minded	Ortho.	Orthopedic
Gen.	General	Ped.	Pediatric
Inc.	Incurable	T.B.	Tuberculosis
Indus.	Industrial	V. N.	Visiting Nurse
Inst.	Institutional

*Agency supplying "Internship approval" for Canada — C. M. A.
This is omitted for Canada.

4. The Arrangement of Hospital Directory

For the second time we are using a vertical arrangement for the pages. This has necessitated the use of at least two and sometimes more lines for each of the hospitals, so that significant data might be adequately presented. The hospitals are listed by state, the states being arranged in alphabetical order and within each state the names of the cities and towns are again sub-alphabetized. The hospitals in a given locality, city, or town are listed in their respective alphabetical order the same arrangements prevailing for the provinces and other political divisions of Canada.

The dioceses in which the various hospitals are located are set out to the right of the name of the city or town. The full name and address of the hospital falls in the second column. Special attention must be called to the next column in which a code number appears which refers to the full name and other information of the Sisterhood or Brotherhood conducting the institution. The lists of these Sisterhoods and Brotherhoods together with pertinent data appear in Table X. The year in which the hospital was established follows in another column and immediately to the right there appears a double column listing the number of beds and bassinets together with, in a line immediately below a series of symbols descriptive of the institution's status, facilities, and activities. The name of the superintendent of the hospital and of the director of nurses follows in another column, the latter's name being indented in the typesetting. Finally, in the last column, we find the name of the chief of staff and of the chaplain of the institution.

5. Code for Allied Agencies

The same consideration that is used above for the physical "layout" for the hospital directories are applicable for the directory of the allied agencies. The code used is the following:

(Placed after the address of the Agency)

- * Nonsectarian
- a Affiliated or Connected with Another Hospital
- b Lay Administration under Diocesan Control
- c For Religious Only
- d Teaching Hospital Attached to a Medical School
- e Affiliated for Nursing Education
- f For Women Only
- g Under Jurisdiction of Another Hospital
- h For Men Only
- i Incomplete Information
- k Medical Service through City Health Department
- l Obstetrics Service for Special Cases
- m Managed by Sisters
- n Infirmary Service
- o Dispensary Service
- o^1 Special Clinics
- p Medical Record Department
- q Laboratory Service
- r X-Ray Service
- s Pharmacy Service
- t Physical-Therapy Service
- u Occupational-Therapy Service
- v Nursing Staff — Registered Nurses
- z Temporarily Closed

6. Key to Abbreviations — Types of Service

The key to the abbreviations used in the Directory of Allied Agencies is the following:

Aged	Aged	Inst.	Institutional
Bl. Child.	Blind Children	Isol.	Isolation
Cancer	Cancer	Leper	Leper
Child. Hyg.	Child Hygiene	Mat.	Maternity
Chron.	Chronic	Men. Def.	Mentally Deficient
Conv.	Convalescent	Men. Hyg.	Mental Hygiene
Disp.	Dispensary	Nerv.	Nervous
Dr. & Al.	Drug & Alcoholic	N. & M.	Nervous & Mental
Epil.	Epilepsy	Neu-Psy.	Neuro-Psychiatric
E.E.N.T.	Eye, Ear, Nose, and Throat	Ortho.	Orthopedic
		Ped.	Pediatric
Gen.	General	Psych.	Psychiatric
Health	Health	T.B.	Tuberculosis
Inc.	Incurable	V.N.	Visiting Nurse
Indus.	Industrial

7. The School of Nursing Directory Code

As in previous years, the editors have followed the technique of devising a code or series of symbols to indicate the status of the school, to provide information concerning the school's facilities, and to designate, too, some of the activities of the school. These symbols are as follows:

(Placed after the address of the School)

- a A.C.S. Fully Approved
- a^1 A.C.S. Provisionally Approved
- b A.M.A. Internship Approval
- b^1 Conditionally Approved for Residency in a Specialty
- c A.M.A. Approval for Residencies in Specialties
- c^1 Cardiology
- c^2 Communicable Diseases
- c^3 Medicine
- c^4 Mixed
- c^5 Obstetrics
- c^6 Obstetrics — Gynecology
- c^7 Pathology
- c^8 Pediatrics
- c^9 Neuro-Psychiatry
- c^{10} Radiology
- c^{11} Surgery
- c^{12} Tuberculosis
- c^{13} Urology
- c^{14} Opthalmology
- c^{15} Otolaryngology
- c^{16} Orthopedics
- d Teaching Hospital Attached to a Medical School (See Footnote)
- e School of Nursing Accredited by State Board of Nurse Examiners
- h Institutional Group
- i Managed by Sisters
- j School not Previously Listed
- k Incomplete Information
- n School for Religious Only
- n^1 Sister Students Enrolled
- o School for Men Students Only
- o^1 Accepts some Men Students
- p^1 Accepts some Negro Students
- p^2 School for Negro Students Only
- s Hospital Affiliation Secured for Subjects Not Offered in the Curriculum
- t Hospital Affiliation Extended to Other Schools of Nursing
- v Negotiating for Educational Affiliation
- w^1 Institutional Integration
- w^2 Institutional Affiliation
- w^3 Course Affiliation
- w^4 Accreditation
- y^1 College or University has an Organized Department or School of Nursing or Nursing Education
- y^2 Schools of Nursing Which Are Units of Organized University or College Departments
- z School of Nursing Discontinued
- z^1 School of Nursing Temporarily Discontinued
- z^2 School of Nursing To Be Discontinued
- * Director of School Having Advanced Scholastic Standing for an Academic Degree

Code for Canada

Same as the Code for the United States except:

- b C.M.A. approved for Internship
- b^1 C.M.A. Recommended for Internship
  There are no residencies as such in Canada
- e Approved Schools of Nursing

Alberta — Schools of Nursing Approved by Provincial Department of Health, University of Alberta
British Columbia — Schools of Nursing Approved by Graduate Nurses' Association of British Columbia
Manitoba — Schools of Nursing Approved by the Manitoba Association of Registered Nurses, University of Manitoba
New Brunswick — Schools of Nursing Approved by Provincial Department of Health
Nova Scotia — Schools of Nursing Approved by Registered Nurses' Association of Nova Scotia
Ontario — Schools of Nursing Approved by Department of Public Health of the Province of Ontario
Prince Edward Island — Schools of Nursing Approved by Provincial Department of Health
Quebec — Schools of Nursing Approved by the Association of Registered Nurses of the Province of Quebec, L'Association Catholique des Gardes-Malades de la Province de Quebec, University of Montreal, Laval University
Saskatchewan — Schools of Nursing Approved by Provincial Department of Health, University of Saskatchewan

8. The Arrangement of the School of Nursing Directory

Previously, we have described the arrangement of the hospital directory. We have also indicated that an effort is made to develop uniform arrangement for the convenience of the reader. Accordingly, it will be found that the Directory of Catholic Schools of Nursing is presented vertically. In the first column will be found the names of the state and city or town in which the school is located. The states are arranged alphabetically, similarly, the cities and towns within a state. In the second column will be found the name and address of the school. The column which follows has been reserved for a code number to designate the Sisterhood or Brotherhood conducting the school. The list of these Sisterhoods and Brotherhoods may be found in Table X. The year of establishment of the school is reported in the next column, while immediately to the right the capacity of the hospital to which the school of nursing is attached is reported and on the line below opposite the address of the school, space is provided for the insertion of symbols which describe some of the facilities and activities of the school. Following this, the student enrollment is reported. In the next column the name of the director of the school is printed. Finally, space has been provided for the school's educational affiliation, there being given the name and address of the university or college with which the school of nursing is affiliated, and in a special column the year in which the affiliation was effected.

9. Key to Abbreviations of Ecclesiastical Jurisdictions

For the benefit of those who desire to consult the "Catholic Directory," in which all Catholic Agencies are listed, the Editors have provided information respecting the Archdiocese and Diocese in which a City or Town may be located. These Abbreviations are indicated in the Directory by means of the scheme of Abbreviations employed by the Editors of the "Catholic Directory" and are as follows:

* Detailed information concerning the hospitals and agencies added in this year's edition may be found in the summaries. The names of institutions published previously but omitted from this year's Directory are also recorded in the summaries preceding the Directory Tables.

† The code number in the first column of Tables X and XI, is the number used throughout this Directory when reference is made to the Order, Congregation or organization owning or conducting an institution.

(1) The Clerics Regular, Servants of the Sick, more popularly known as the Camillian Fathers and designated by the Code Number Men 2, have now recognized the jurisdiction of the United States as a commissariat. This unit of organization has been designated Men 2a. The headquarters are St. Camillus Novitiate, Durwood's Glen, Baraboo, Wisconsin. The hospitals under this jurisdicton are St. Camillus Hospital, Wauwatosa, Wisconsin, and St. Camillus (old) Hospital, Milwaukee, Wisconsin.

N.B. The Order of St. Benedict, Inc. — Men 4 — conducting an infirmary in connection with St. John's College, Collegeville, Minnesota, is not listed this year.

St. Anthony's Hospital at Oakes, North Dakota, has been transferred by the Sisters of St. Benedict of Amborg, Manitoba, Canada (216) to the Sisters of Mercy of the Union, Province of Omaha (1611e). The hospital is now known as Mercy Hospital. Through this transfer the Sisters of St. Benedict (216) return to Canada to devote themselves to their Canadian Missions.

* Detailed information concerning the hospitals and agencies added in this year's edition may be found in the summaries. The names of institutions published previously but omitted from this year's Directory are also recorded in the summaries preceding the Directory Tables.

† The code number in the first column of Tables X and XI, is the number used throughout this Directory when reference is made to the Order, Congregation or organization owning or conducting an institution.

N.B. The Missionary Canonesses of St. Augustine (C102 & C102a) have transferred Hotel Dieu du Sacre du Coeur de Jesus, St. Sauveur, Quebec, to the Religious Hospitallers of the Misericorde of Jesus (C1115). The former is therefore omitted from the list of Religious organizations in this year's Directory.

(1) The Institut Jeanne d'Arc of Ottawa, Ontario, which conducts a convalescent home near Ottawa has been added — designated by the Code Number C1003.

Appendix—The Buying Directory

Specialized Service in Hospital Construction, Equipment, Operation, and Maintenance

HOSPITAL care of the sick is a highly specialized service. Nowhere is the demand for such a high degree of specialized training more evident than in the hospital, where every action is directed toward safeguarding the life of the patient.

The communities of Sisters devoting their lives to the administration of hospitals, the doctors applying their professional skill in these institutions, the nurses in the immediate care of the sick, are typical examples of the highly trained specialized personnel required in the hospital care of the sick.

But the professional services of this highly trained personnel would be ineffective, or to say the least very limited, without the physical means of carrying on their professional service. Here, in providing the necessary physical means, a high degree of specialization is essential, involving as it does the designing of buildings, the proper equipping of these institutions, the production, sale, and use of medical and surgical equipment and supplies, as well as the equipment and materials necessary for operation and maintenance.

Not only is the hospital care of the sick a very highly specialized professional work, but this service must also be provided on a continuous basis, and frequently in the form of emergency service.

Specialized service and continuity of service, in terms of medical and hospital personnel, equipment, and supplies, is the keynote of efficient hospitalization.

In the planning and construction of a new hospital, or in any program of modernization, the employment of a specialist in this particular field of professional service is the first step in securing efficiency in hospital administration, operation, and maintenance.

Hospitals, properly designed and equipped, are the most efficient and economical, providing annual savings which more than make up for the initial expenditure in securing this professional service. On the other hand, errors in planning are perpetuated for the life of the building, with increased annual operating costs.

The employment of an architect specializing in hospital design and construction, or a professional hospital consultant of recognized standing, to co-operate with the hospital authorities and their architect is the best form of insurance against unnecessary capital investments and delays in the completion of the project; and it is the best way to secure maximum efficiency and economy.

In like manner, the equipping of hospitals in the original installations as well as in the annual operation and maintenance can best be accomplished in dealing with or through responsible establishments recognized as definite divisions of the hospital trade. These establishments, because their interests are centered in serving the Catholic hospital field and, by reason of their special training and experience, fully understand hospital needs and requirements in every department of hospital activity, and on this basis are in a position to offer a specialized service in supplying hospital needs and requirements.

Research and progress in medical science is improving techniques, designing new products and processes, developing new methods. All this involves the continuous production of new products, new equipment, or the redesign and improvement of present equipment. Manufacturers, through their own research departments, are continually active in developing new products and are continually improving their equipment, in order to meet the hospital needs and demands. Close contact with the hospital field and close co-operation with hospital administrators, on the part of the establishments specializing in the field of hospital service, is most essential in maintaining efficient hospitalization.

Supplying the physical requirements of hospitalization service, like the hospital care of the sick, is highly specialized work which contributes very materially to efficiency in hospital service. For this reason the purchase of equipment and supplies, through the established hospital trade, carries with it the greatest assurance of satisfactory results, as well as of greatest economy to the hospitals. Continuity of service in securing equipment and supplies is also an essential requirement. The marginal or submarginal establishments, usually selling on the basis of price and making no contribution to the general progress of hospitalization, are certainly not in a position to render a satisfactory service.

Co-operative buying, while giving promise of lower price due to quantity purchases, tends to reduce quality, eliminates the important factors of service, and fails to give full consideration to special needs and requirements of individual institutions. Co-operative buying, except in certain bulk commodities, is not satisfactory. The necessary close contact between hospital user and manufacturer or his qualified representative is lost, and this generally results in a failure to get maximum efficiency and service in the use of equipment or supplies. Buying or selling on a price basis only brings in the marginal and submarginal establishments as bidders, which always results in lowered quality and eventually inferior materials and equipment, and is of no benefit either to the hospitals or to the established hospital trade.

HOSPITAL PROGRESS, the Official Journal of the Catholic Hospital Association, through the advertising pages of the SPECIAL DIRECTORY NUMBER, the regular monthly issues, and through the annual convention exhibits, promotes the highest type of service in the sale and purchase of hospital needs and requirements. We, therefore, direct the attention of the Catholic hospitals to the established hospital trade as represented in the pages of the Buying Directory in this special issue, as well as in the regular issues of HOSPITAL PROGRESS. These concerns, through their advertising in HOSPITAL PROGRESS, express their ability and interest in serving the Catholic hospitals, and merit your favorable consideration when purchasing equipment and supplies.

The advertising of manufacturers and dealers on the following pages of this Directory, as well as in the monthly issues of HOSPITAL PROGRESS, will serve as a convenient source of supply covering your hospital requirements. Your request to these advertisers will bring immediate response and these firms are especially recommended for your favorable consideration in purchasing your needed requirements.

The advertising index, beginning on page 48A, lists the advertisers alphabetically, including a condensed statement covering the key products and services they offer. The Directory of Equipment and Supplies, beginning on page 24A, is a classified list of the products of companies advertising in this directory which will serve as a convenient guide in making up your buying lists. The post-card service included on the last page offers an opportunity of quickly and conveniently getting in touch with sources of supply on every type of hospital equipment and supplies which you may need, saving the time and expense of writing to individual firms.

For Every Fracture Case

Modern fracture equipment is a humanitarian necessity in this age. Traffic accidents involving fractures increase the number and type of fracture cases coming to the hospital. The Hawley-Scanlan table insures maximum accuracy and rapidity in examination and treatment of all types of fractures. X-ray transparency of the top sections, and clear space below top, permits free use of portable shockproof X-ray apparatus for radiography and fluoroscopy. Important new fracture appliances for the table include armboard, improved foot pieces, and hammock support.

Steam and Power for the Mercy Hospital, Chicago*

Gustav F. Moranz

THE Mercy Hospital ranks among the oldest hospitals in Chicago, receiving its title of incorporation as the Illinois General Hospital of the Lakes in 1849. A few years later it was changed to the present name of the Mercy Hospital.

The foundation of the institution had its inception at a still earlier date — September, 1846, to be exact — when six Sisters of the order of the Sisters of Mercy arrived from Pittsburgh, as the Pioneer welfare workers in the frontier town of Chicago. About this time a terrible cholera epidemic broke out in the pioneer settlement, which led the young group of Sisters to the idea of providing something in the way of hospital facilities. From this humble beginning, inspired by the boundless energy and enthusiasm of these youthful workers, under the most difficult circumstances in a frontier community, was laid the foundation of what is today one of the greatest social service institutions in the country.

In 1863 the institution was moved to its present location, on Calumet Avenue near Twenty-sixth Street. From this small first unit of the institution it has gradually developed into a group of units, covering a whole city block, bounded by Prairie and Calumet Avenues on the West and East, and Twenty-fifth and Twenty-sixth Streets on the North and South, with additional units located in the immediate vicinity.

The institution is a general hospital with an approximate capacity of 350 beds, equipped to take care of almost any kind of human ailment. It operates a dispensary with a capacity for handling approximately 25,000 patients, annually. The new X-ray Therapy department for the treatment of cancer, tumors, and related diseases, is one of the largest and the best equipped in the United States.

The hospital carries a staff of 81 doctors, twelve interns, thirty-eight Sisters, fifty-five graduate nurses, and seventy-five students, as the regular staff of the institution. In addition an organization of approximately 170 employees, which includes 19 employees in the power plant group, are required for the related services required for the operation of the institution.

To meet the service demands of this large community of ailing humanity and those who minister to their needs, according to modern standards, heat, light, power, refrigeration, hot and cold water, laundry service, and the most elaborate dietary service must be maintained, continuously. Lights must not fail while the patient is on the operating table. Sterilizing equipment must be ready for instant service, any minute of the entire year. Heat must be maintained during the cold weather season, and the building kept comfortable, regardless of the outside temperature. Water for the various services must be on tap at every instant it is wanted. Constantly, every minute of the day, and every day of the year, the engineer in charge of the hospital power plant is faced with the fact that "The Service Must Not Fail."

An ENTIRELY NEW TECHNIQUE IN THE STERILIZATION OF MATTRESSES AND BEDDING

PROPERLY harnessed and controlled steam can be used for dependable sterilization of all bedding except woolen blankets, with only slight destructive effect.

The same scientific thought that has reduced surgical sterilization to a precision system applies. Under the new technique developed by the American Sterilizer Company and contrary to all old standards, loads are never subjected either to excessive heat or excessive moisture—the direct causes respectively of burned covers and soggy, mildewed mattresses. Thorough sterilization is accomplished in about half the time required under the older method.

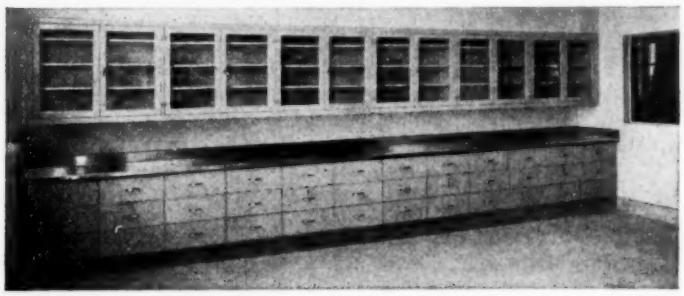
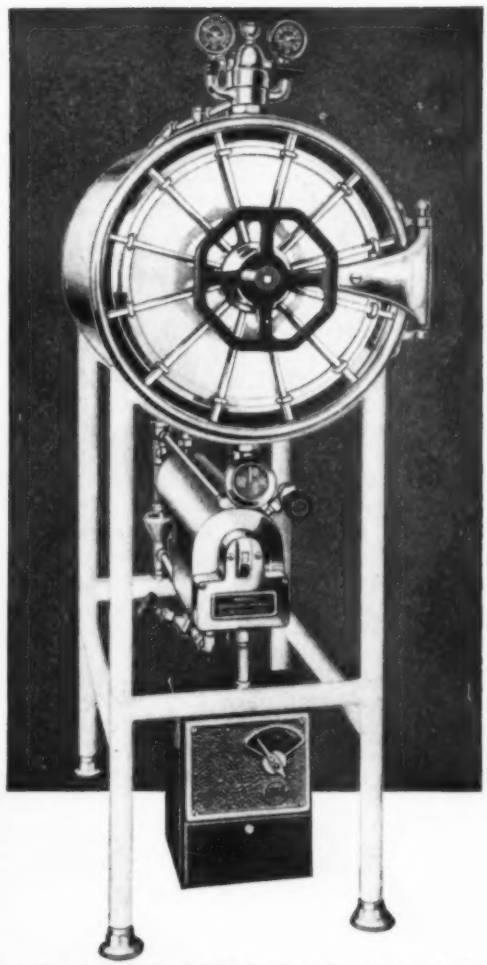
One says, "Keep costs down"
The other says, "Keep sanitary standards up"
Both say, "Buy Equipment of Monel"

Monel food service equipment in special diet kitchen of the Kansas City General Hospital, Kansas City, Mo. Fabricated and installed by Duparquet, Huot and Moneuse Co. of Chicago.





Sterilizer shells fabricated by American Sterilizer Company of Erie, Pa. Walls of the Sterilizing chamber and the steam jacket are made of Monel as well as outside shell.

(Left) Built-in cases installed by the General Fireproofing Company, Youngstown, Ohio, in the surgical dressing room of the Youngstown City Hospital, Youngstown, Ohio. Monel tops were standard equipment in several hundred of these units.

YOU'D like to keep your budget in balance, of course. But never at the cost of lowered standards of cleanliness. And you're right. In choosing any equipment from laundry to operating room, you never compromise with absolute sanitation . . . no matter what the cost.

But there's ONE metal widely used in hospitals which satisfies both operating management and chief of staff. You find Monel,* among many places, in sterilizers, in hospital kitchens and laundries, and as tops for cases in surgical dressing rooms.

Monel makes it easy to maintain a high degree of sterility. It cannot rust. Its solid surface has no coating to crack or chip. It is highly resistant to corrosion from most hospital solutions. Its silvery surface gleams cheerily at you through years of hard service.

And for these same reasons . . . because Monel can be kept CLEAN with ease for years after other metals have had to be discarded . . . Monel cuts down replacement cost and helps balance the budget.

Monel can be fabricated by all standard methods, to form any of your equipment. For cabinet tops and kitchen equipment No. 35 Monel, a new product with all the advantages of Monel, is a harder sheet with a factory finish that insures uniform appearance. Prices will surprise you pleasantly too. Give Inco's engineers the chance to furnish you full information.

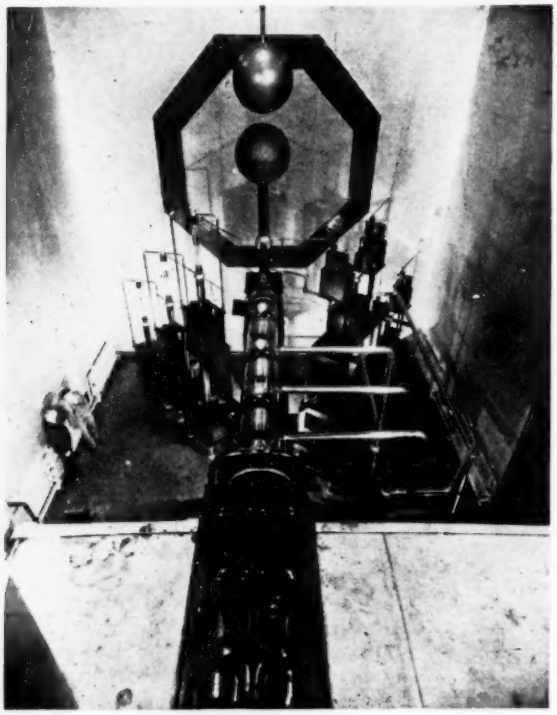
The X-Ray Therapy Department

The mammoth X-ray machine, of the new Deep X-ray Therapy department is probably the most interesting part of the entire institution. This is housed in a separate three-story building, in which the X-ray machine proper extends from the ground level to the top floor. This will give an idea of its tremendous dimensions.

The main purpose of this installation is to provide the same results, particularly in cancer treatments, as those produced by the gamma rays of radium. This ray, when filtered through thin layers of copper to arrest the softer Roentgen rays, penetrates the deep tissues, the formation of electrons is much increased in numbers, and they are also more intensive in action.

Before this machine was perfected, the only way in which the same results could be obtained was with a radium bomb, which consists of a lead housing containing about 8 grams of radium. The cost of such a radium bomb or pack is about $480,000 at the present market price. As the yearly world output of radium is about 35 grams, and as practically 1,200 grams would be needed in the United States for treating all cancers adequately, it is evident that other means would have to be provided, if all sufferers should receive the proper treatment.

The new Mercy Hospital X-ray machine cost approximately another $50,000 and the building and accessories cost approximately another $50,000. This is still far below the cost of a radium bomb of equal capacity, and in many respects the machine offers advantages in control. There is the further advantage that this machine gives off the same amount of radiation in ten minutes that an 8-gram radium pack gives off in one hour. This means that six times the number of patients can be treated in a given time, as compared to a radium pack of equal intensity.



X-RAY ROOM SHOWING TUBE, SPARK SPHERES, AND LEAD SHIELD

The machine is capable of generating a maximum voltage of 1,200,000 volts, although it has been found that 800,000 volts produces the most effective results, and has been adopted as the normal operating voltage. A 50-hp. power input is required, and this is provided by a three-phase induction motor driving a 40-kv-a., 250-volt, 1200 r.p.m. single-phase, 60-cycle generator.

This 250-volt, single-phase current is delivered to four transformers, which step up the voltage to the normal operating voltage of 800,000 volts. This is rectified by four Kenetron tubes to direct current, and delivered to the mammoth X-ray tube. This is a Coolidge cascade type tube, made up of four units with a total length of 16 ft.

An almost perfect vacuum is required for the operation of the tube, and this is maintained by two sets of pumps, one set of the usual type of air pump, which produces a comparatively high vacuum, and an oil diffusion pump for removing the remainder, until only traces of air remain in the tube. Approximately 30 minutes is required to evacuate the tube and get the machine into operation, each day it is started. After it has been started it is usually continued in operation for about six hours, which is the normal operating day with the exception of Sunday. From 35 to 50 patients are treated daily, each being given an 8-minute exposure.

Two copper spheres, 36 in. in diameter furnish the spark gap for the machine. The gap is variable, and controlled by remote control devices from the control room.

In operation, the stream of electrons coming off the cathode, or input end of the tube, traverses the length of the tube, striking the anode or output end, which is also called the "target." The target is made of pure tungsten and in operation generates a large amount of heat which must be removed. This is accomplished by water circulation, approximately 20 gallons per minute being required to maintain the proper temperature. The entire target is completely surrounded by a lead shield, six inches thick, with the exception of the port through which the patient is exposed to the rays.

Construction Features of Building

Constructing the building to house the machine was one of the most difficult problems encountered in the construction of the unit. The building not only had to be constructed to protect the patients from the influence of the rays, but the physicians, nurses, attendants, all other patients, and outsiders had to be protected. In other words, the rays have to be completely isolated inside of the building, and directed to the single outlet where the patients are treated.

Approximately fifty tons of lead were used in the form of sheets to insulate the building. The walls of the building housing the machine are protected with lead sheets one-quarter inch thick. The operating room in which the patient is placed is lined with 22 tons of lead. At the opposite end of the tube, directly across the machine room from the operating room, the wall is protected by an immense octagonal lead shield to protect the inmates of the nurses home located a short distance from the X-ray building. This illustrates, to some extent, the detailed precautions which had to be taken in the construction of the machine and building, to insure complete safety for all concerned.

All metal work and conducting material is solidly grounded by four ¼ x 2-in. copper bars laid in the walls and floor, and connected to a perforated copper plate, laid in charcoal buried in the ground at the approximate water level of the lake. This insures a complete grounding of all conductive material and machinery. Additional protection is furnished by the aluminum paint with which the interior walls of the machine room are coated.

After all of these precautions have been provided, there

Tested as Exactingly as Biologicals

. . . For Saftiflasks are produced in a government-licensed biological laboratory.

UNLIKE biologicals, dextrose solutions are not government-licensed. But isn't it logical for a laboratory with over forty years' experience in the production of biologicals to use the same exacting care in the production and testing of Saftiflasks?

Biological workers know that no product — licensed or not — is safe for intravenous injection until it has been proven safe.

Here, dextrose solutions in Saftiflasks are meticulously tested and retested — chemically, biologically, physiologically — by technicians of the same calibre demanded in government-licensed biological laboratories. This group is wholly divorced from the product's manufacture. Prescribe dextrose and other solutions in Saftiflasks.

An Efficient X-Ray Department Doesn't Just Happen

—it is efficient because the project was carefully studied and practically planned

YOU may have plenty of money to buy every suggested device for a completely equipped x-ray laboratory, but responsibility does not end with the purchase. It includes the important factor of planning the installation to get every bit of value from the apparatus.

Every unit must be easily accessible and in proper relation to every other unit. Each must take its proper place in the scheme of departmental operation.

Haphazard or inexpert planning and installation of an x-ray department will seriously hinder the effectiveness of the finest equipment money can buy, while proper planning enables you to safeguard your investment and get full value for your money.

To help you, the General Electric X-Ray Corporation has established a special department devoted to scientific planning of x-ray departments for hospitals and similar institutions. It is this service, together with G-E equipment which for more than forty years has been recognized the world over as the best that science, manufacturing skill, and experience can provide that will help to give you the efficient, economical, outstanding department that you want in your institution.

Collaborating with your hospital board, medical staff, and architects, we can relieve you of the countless details which, properly handled, contribute greatly to the ultimate success of your installation.

Take advantage of our many years' experience in rendering service to the medical profession. Be sure —with G-E equipment and service.

is always the possibility that someone may open the doors to the operating room or the machine room while the machine is in operation. To insure protection for such contingencies, the doors through which one might be exposed to the dangerous rays are equipped with automatic switches, which instantly cut off the current supply, in case any of the doors are opened. Normally the doors are locked when the machine is in operation, and the automatic switches are an added safety feature.

The machine was designed and constructed by the X-ray department of the General Electric Co., under the direction of Dr. Henry Schmitz, of the Institute, one of the pioneers in X-ray work in this country. Additional members of the staff include Dr. Peter A. Nelson, and Dr. Herbert E. Schmitz.

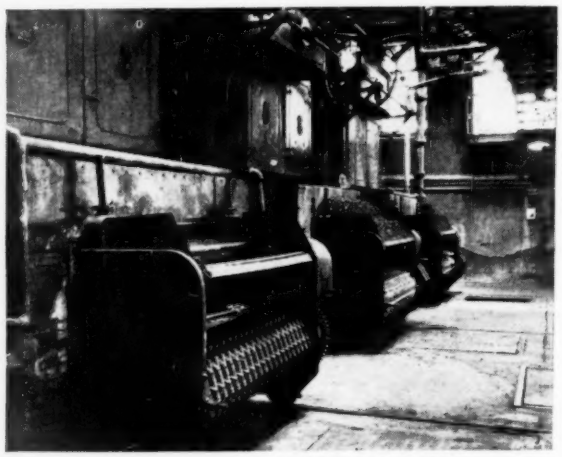
In addition to the large X-ray Therapy unit, the hospital is also equipped with a complete X-ray laboratory, which includes three single-valve, one-half wave rectification General Electric radiographic machines. Two of the machines are motor-driven combination fluoroscopic and radiographic tables, which can be operated in either the horizontal or vertical positions. The third unit is connected to a cystoscopic table, which also can be operated in either the vertical or horizontal position.

Boiler Room Equipment

Steam for the institution is generated at 150 lb. pressure by three water tube boilers with a nominal rating of 350 hp. each and a total capacity of 1,050 hp. Normally the load is carried on one to two boilers, with a third boiler in reserve. Each boiler is equipped with gage columns, with high and low water alarms, safety valves, stop and check valves, and blowoff combination. Soot is removed by manual soot blowers, inserted through the proper openings in the setting. The steam output of each boiler is measured by recording flow meters.

These boilers were installed in 1916 and are still in excellent condition, without any serious indications of deterioration, and still good for many years of service. This record is largely due to careful operation, systematic and adequate maintenance, and prompt repairs of any part that needs attention.

The boilers are fired with chain grate stokers, 6 ft. 6 in. wide and 10 ft. 4 in. long, with an effective grate surface of 67 sq. ft. The boilers are set 4 ft. 6 in. above the stokers, which is low for Illinois coal, but in spite of this handicap, the boiler performance has been highly efficient.



BOILER ROOM — STOKERS AND FRONT OF BOILERS

The boiler plant is operated with natural draft supplied by a brick chimney 6 ft. in diameter and 165 ft. high. The stokers are driven by a group drive from an overhead shaft, which in turn can be driven by a 5-hp. motor or a steam engine of the same capacity.

Illinois coal, consisting of 1½ in. Franklin County screenings, is delivered to the plant in trucks, weighed on a large platform scale, and dumped directly into one of three 250-ton storage bunkers on the firing floor level. From the storage bins the coal is wheeled to the stoker hoppers by wheelbarrows, each load being weighed on a one-ton platform scale in the boiler room. This gives a double check on the fuel consumption, the fuel being weighed before delivery into the bunkers, and also as it is taken out. As a general rule, these records balance and if they do not, it is time to check up on where the discrepancy occurs.

The rate of combustion is controlled by damper regulator, which controls the damper setting and the speed of the stoker drive. This proportions the rate of fuel feed to the draft, and maintains a highly efficient furnace performance.

Ashes are raked out from under the stokers directly into openings in the floor and conveyed by steam jet ash conveyor into the storage bin, from which they are delivered into trucks and hauled away.

Feedwater Supply and Controls

Very little steam goes to waste in the plant, even in the summer season, as most of the exhaust steam from the power generators is utilized for water heating and other low-pressure services. As a consequence, most of the boiler feedwater makeup is made up of condensate, and approximately 25 per cent of raw makeup water is required. The makeup is Lake Michigan water from the city service, with a comparatively low hardness content. As a consequence, scale problems and water conditioning is a comparatively simple problem.

Condensate from the vacuum pumps, high-pressure traps, and other services are delivered to a heater equipped with V-Notch meter for measuring the flow. This, together with the flow meters on the boilers, provides a close check on the evaporation. As previously stated, every pound of coal is accounted for, thus making it possible to maintain a daily, weekly, monthly and yearly check on the rate of evaporation per lb. of coal, which at the present time is approximately 8 lb. of water per lb. of coal, as received, and at the existing feedwater temperature and steam pressure. Feedwater temperatures average about 185 deg. F.

From the feedwater heater the water is delivered to the boilers by two pumps. These are of the plunger type, outside end-packed 9 x 5 x 10 in. and automatically controlled by pressure governors. Final delivery to the boilers is controlled by Copes feedwater level regulators, which automatically maintain the proper level in the boilers.

Boilers are opened up and inspected every three months. The tubes are usually turbined at this time, although scale deposits are very small in most cases. Every part of the boiler is carefully examined and inspected at each cleaning period, whatever repairs found necessary are promptly made, and for this reason these boilers have been kept in perfect condition over a period of 20 years, and are still good for many more.

The Engine Room

Power is generated for the institution at 230 volts, and distributed by a three-wire, 220—110 volt d-c. system. Three power generating units are provided — one 250-kw. unit and two 150-kw. units. The 250-kw. unit is usually sufficient to handle the load, with the smaller units being used for the

The KASPER QUADS were born at St. Mary's Hospital in Passaic, N. J., on May 9th, 1936. They were premature, 7 months babies, and were kept in incubators the first 8 weeks of their lives. Their average weight at birth was 3 lbs., 5 oz. When they left the hospital 9 months later, their average weight was 17 lbs., 11 oz. and at age of 1 year, 7 months, it was 23 lbs., 13 oz.

At least one thing the Kasper Quads have in common with other infants . . . . from birth they were rubbed daily with Mennen Antiseptic Oil, as practically all babies are who are fortunate enough to be born in a hospital.

Yes . . . . today more than 90% of all hospitals important in maternity work use Mennen Antiseptic Oil in their nurseries — to remove the vernix, for the initial antiseptic cleansing, and for the routine daily oil-rub. Their experience proves that the oil definitely helps to keep the infant's skin safer from impetigo, pustular rashes and other infectious disorders, does not soil linen, washes out easily, is pleasant to handle.

Mennen Antiseptic Oil is non-irritating, non-toxic and self-sterilizing; it cannot become rancid.

If you're not using the oil in your nursery, write for a test quantity — without charge.

lighter loads, or to relieve the larger unit when this has to be shut down for adjustment or repairs.

The large unit consists of a 250-kw. 230-volt, three-wire, direct-current generator, direct-connected to a 19 x 24-in. non-releasing Corliss type valve engine, operating at a speed of 180 r.p.m. One of the 150-kw. units is made up of a generator, driven by 12 x 20 engine, of the same type as the large unit, and operating at a speed of 200 r.p.m. The third unit is made up of a generator driven by an 18 x 16-in. slide valve engine operating at a speed of 200 r.p.m. All engines have their own individual lubricating systems, both for the bearings and the cylinders, and all are equipped with Falls engine stops, as an additional safety feature. Two 7½ kw. balancer sets complete the power generating and distribution system, which has functioned with complete satisfaction and without serious interruptions ever since the plant was placed in operation. Current is controlled through an 8-panel black slate switchboard; three panels are provided for the three generating units, two for the balancer sets, one for 220-volt power, and two for 110-volt lighting service.

With the exception of a few weeks during the summer season, and then only at intervals, all of the exhaust from the engines is utilized for heating services in the institution, such as heating water, which is required in large quantities, building heating, and other services which can be operated on low-pressure steam. All of the exhaust is discharged into a common header, which in turn connects into a 5 x 12-ft. expansion tank, which at the same time acts as a receiver, condensate collector, and oil separator, producing practically dry and clean steam for the heating system services. A live steam line from the boilers connects to the same expansion tank, the flow being automatically controlled by a 3-in. Boylston reducing valve, which maintains a pressure of one-half pound on the system, whenever the exahust pressure drops below this point. The back pressure valve on the exhaust system is set at 1½ lb. and very seldom blows.

This is explained by the fact that the expansion tank is equipped with a small safety valve set at one-half pound. When the exhaust system pressure passes the one-half pound limit, this safety valve blows, directing attention to the excess pressure, and steps are promptly taken to cut down on the steam supply. This is the main reason why it is an uncommon experience to see the atmosphere relief valve on the roof passing any steam at any time.

Hot and Cold Water System

Water is delivered to the plant from two separate city mains, insuring maximum reliability of service, even if one of them should be out of service for any reason. The water enters a 48 x 54-in. surge tank, from which it passes to a receiving tank, which supplies the entire institution. The first and second floors of all buildings are supplied from the city supply, without pumping. All floors above the second are supplied from the house pump system.

The high-pressure water system is supplied by a total of eight pumps, two of them reciprocating steam pumps and the remainder centrifugal motor-driven pumps. The steam pump consists of one 8 x 12 x 12 duplex pump, which was on display at the World's fair in 1893. It is still working as well as ever, after over 40 years of service. The other steam pump is of the same type, 10 x 6 x 10 in. This pump, as will be noted by the cylinder dimensions, is of the high-pressure type and can be used for boiler feed service.

In order to improve the heat balance of the plant, and eliminate the waste of steam during the summer months, the motor-driven centrifugal pumps were installed for summer operation, and for reserve units when the steam pumps are in service. These are all of identical construction, consisting of 100 g.p.m., 100-ft. head, 1700 r.p.m. pumps, driven by 5-hp. motors.

Hot water in large quantities is used all over the institution, and particularly in the laundry, which is a very heavy consumer. Water for this service is heated to 140 deg. in two heaters, each having a capacity of 750 gal. per hr. from 70 deg. to 160 deg. F. The laundry is supplied by one of these heaters, operating under city pressure. The other unit serves the house system, and is supplied from the high-pressure water system. Both heaters operate on exhaust steam. Hot water storage is provided by a 3 x 12-ft. storage tank. A uniform hot water temperature throughout the building is provided by a Worthington 5¼ x 4 x 5-in. Worthington duplex circulating pump.

Laundry Equipment

The laundry is one of the most important departments in the institution, as cleanliness is of vital importance in this work. A total of 10 tons of flatwork are handled by the laundry each week, in addition to 450 nurses' uniforms, 60 doctors' coats, 45 operating coats and linens, which are hand ironed. The laundry is located on the second floor level, over the power plant, and is exceptionally cool and well ventilated. The equipment includes four cascade washers, two 26-in. extractors, one 48-in. extractor, one dry tumbler, one six-roll mangle, one four-roll mangle, four electric presses and six electric hand irons for work which cannot be handled in the machines.

Heating System

The entire institution is heated by direct cast iron radiation. The system is of the two-pipe vacuum type operating on a supply pressure of approximately one-half pound, gauge, and a vacuum on the returns of about 10 in.

All condensate drains lead back to the vacuum pumps in the pump room, which pump the condensate into a receiving tank located at a level above the feedwater heater to which the condensate flows by gravity. Two vacuum pumps are provided, both of them simplex pumps, 8 x 12 x 12-in. Both pumps are controlled by governors.

Connection between the basements of the different buildings in the whole block is provided by a concrete tunnel sys-

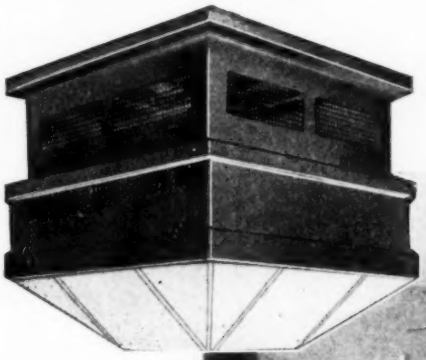
HANOVIA PRESENTS THE LATEST DEVELOPMENTS IN PHYSICAL THERAPY EQUIPMENT . . . MODERN, SELECTIVE and ADVANCED EFFICIENCY



HANOVIA ALPINE SUN GROUP SOLARIUM LAMPS

These specially designed, highly efficient Hanovia Alpine Sun Group Solarium lamps supply a source of therapeutic ultraviolet energy minus shadows and without expensive ventilating equipment, of the desired quality and of sufficient intensity to irradiate beneficially twenty patients at one time.

It provides hospitals and other institutions with a means of administering general ultraviolet irradiation at lowest cost—because of savings in current consumption—curtailment of residence period of in-patients—and the resultant reduction in the cost of hospitalization per patient.

SUPER "S" ALPINE SUN LAMP

This entirely new Super "S" Alpine Sun Lamp embodies a new type of high pressure, high intensity quartz-mercury arc which has many important advantages over the conventional types of the past. It employs a self-starting quartz burner with thermionic activated solid electrodes and sufficient mercury to carry the high pressure mercury arc. Ideal for institutional work.

SOLLUX RADIANT HEAT LAMP

Especially designed for exceptional flexibility and therapeutic efficiency. Produces a marked body hyperemia, which causes an influx of blood to the irradiated area. Sollux localizing cones offer efficient radiation where local concentration is required.

HUMIDITHERM

A new therapeutic Fever Cabinet which produces automatically controlled, therapeutic fever by circulated, heated, humidified air. Constructed to permit full freedom of the patient while treatment is in progress.

HANOVIA ULTRA SHORT WAVE UNIT

Hanovia engineers, reinforced by a complete collaboration with leading hospitals, have produced this Ultra Short Wave Generator that pre-eminently is the most efficient and rugged in the field today, and offers the most simplified and convenient method of producing heat —deep within the tissues.

tem in which is run all high and low-pressure steam piping, hot and cold water piping, condensate returns, electric distribution lines, plumbing piping, telephone and annunciator circuits, and all other services connecting the different buildings.

Piping is hung on the ceiling and sides of the tunnel, with expansion joints on all high-temperature piping, at frequent intervals to take care of the expansion of the pipes when heated. All piping and electric circuits are therefore readily accessible for inspection and repairs, which makes it a simple matter to maintain lines and circuits in first-class condition and to detect any leaks or defects, whenever they appear.

Performance Records and Costs

Since the writer was placed in charge of the department in 1924, exact records have been kept of the fuel consumption, the amount of water evaporated, labor cost of the power plant staff, and material and labor costs of all maintenance and repair work, both on the power plant equipment and the buildings. The exact amount spent on each unit of the power plant for the entire period is therefore available at any time. Similar records have been kept of the kw.-hr. output of the power generators, gas purchased, and other items entering into the cost of operating the plant and buildings.

The peak fuel consumption in the winter time approximates 33 tons per day. Approximately 6,000 tons is used yearly. The rate of evaporation, from a feedwater temperature of 185 deg. to steam at 150 lb. pressure is approximately 8 lb. of steam per lb. of coal as received. The total current output per year is approximately 675,000 kw.-hr.

The cost of steam at the present price paid for coal and cost of labor and maintenance of the boiler equipment is approximately 35 cents per 1,000 lbs. This does not include overhead, as the plant should be charged off a long time ago on any reasonable depreciation rate.

At the time the writer took charge one-half of the kitchen ranges were operated on gas. This was later changed to electric ranges, providing additional load for the engines, while at the same time producing an increased amount of exhaust steam, which is practically all used, even in the summer time. This made a drastic reduction in the gas bill, while the coal consumption for the plant has been reduced over the 1926 figure, even with additional load taken on for other services.

As a matter of comparison, the coal tonnage for 1926 was 8,100 tons. For 1936 it was 6,331 tons. The power output for 1926 was 556,900 kw.-hr. For 1936 it was 675,000 kw.-hr. The gas bill for 1926 was $3,665.00. For 1936 it was $1,654.00. While the power, steam and other services have been greatly increased, the fuel bill for the plant has been reduced over twenty per cent. These results can be credited to exact cost on performance records, close watch on all equipment and adequate maintenance of all apparatus, an operating staff that is keyed to maintain and operate the equipment at the highest practical efficiency, and a constant effort to eliminate all waste and inefficient operation.
